PREFACE

The Montana Legislative Council provides information resources for legislators and other interested persons both during and after a legislative session. These resources are designed to help people locate legislation, vote totals, committee testimony, and codified statutes. Such tools include the telephone directory; bill status reports from drafting to final vote; subject indexes of proposed legislation; lists of code sections which could be affected by passage of legislation, etc.

This brochure provides a brief introduction to the various sources of information published by the Montana Legislative Council.

During the legislative session, the Public Information Office is open to help people with questions. This office is located in the rotunda of the capitol and a toll-free number, 1-800-332-3408, is provided for out-of-town inquiry. The office provides access to computer terminals which contain the latest information on introduced bills. Persons should utilize the Public Information Office whenever possible during the session.

For more information on any part of this brochure, contact the Montana Legislative Council, Room 138, State Capitol, Helena, Montana 59620.

BILL DRAFTING MANUAL

The Bill Drafting Manual provides drafters with a set of uniform standards and instructions for bill drafting. It also includes suggestions on the mechanics, style, and technique of drafting to make the process more trouble-free. Sample bills and resolutions, plus a bill drafter checklist, are included.

This publication is free and available from the Legislative Council.

No one can tell the drafter when enough research is done. The drafter must determine when to stop gathering information and start writing. Judgment must be exercised to avoid wasting time in endless pursuit of unnecessary information.

Organization

Organize the information at hand. Develop an outline that places the elements of the problem in a logical pattern. A bill for only a simple amendment to existing law will present no organizational problem. A major new body of law will require considerable effort to guarantee clarity. Some bill parts are so common that their placement in a bill has been standardized. A drafter must be familiar with the standard bill format discussed in Chapter 4 of this manual before he begins to organize his bill.

Begin to draft the bill when the work is outlined. Rewrite the bill as often as is necessary to achieve clarity, coherence, and unity. Revise the organization of the bill if revision contributes to clarity.

Timesavers

There are several timesavers that may be used in preparing a draft bill.

(1) Each section of a long bill may be placed on a separate sheet of paper until a cohesive draft is prepared. Sections can then be shuffled and rearranged with ease as research and construction proceed. Ideally, sections should not be numbered and internal references should not be filled in until the final arrangement is reached.

(2) Copies of any current statutes proposed for amendment may be taped to draft pages and deletions and new language indicated in red pen on the copy.

BILL DRAFTING RECORD BOOK INDEX

Bill request forms are filed in the Legislative Council Office, Room 138, State Capitol. These requests are assigned a Legislative Council (LC) number and are logged chronologically into a Bill Drafting Record Book. Included in each entry are the subject of the bill, the drafter's name, and the requestor's name. The LC number becomes the identifying number of the bill during the drafting and typing stages. Information from this book is then fed into the computer, producing three daily printouts: the Requestor list; the Subject list; and the Drafter list.

The Bill Drafting Record Book is kept in the office of the Director of Legal Services. The daily printouts are available for use in the Legislative Council main office, the Research Division offices, the Legal Division office, the Legislative Council Library, and the Public Information Office.

INTERNAL REFERENCE LIST

The Internal Reference List is a computer-generated list of all Montana Code Annotated sections which refer to other MCA sections. This publication is used in bill drafting and provides the drafter with a quick source for finding all references to a certain section of the code in the event that such a section is to be repealed or amended.

This publication is free and available from the Legislative Council.

CODE SECTIONS AFFECTED LIST

Legislation that proposes to change the Montana Code Annotated is compiled and published in three different lists. These lists are generated in order to aid the drafter in avoiding conflicts, correcting redundancies, and solving problems. The lists are set up in the following manner:

- 1) Bills drafted and entered on the computer. The first list shows which code sections could be amended or repealed by any bill entered on the automated drafting system. Included in the entry is the LC number.
- 2) Introduced bills. A separate list is generated daily listing all code sections affected on introduced bills with their corresponding bill number. As bills are amended during the legislative process, the list is updated.
- 3) Enrolled bills. A third list is generated detailing all code sections affected by bills which have passed the legislature and have been sent to the Governor for his signature.

All three lists are available for use in the Council offices.

HOUSE AND SENATE JOURNALS

The House and Senate Journals provide a record of all actions taken on bills and resolutions introduced into the session. The journals are printed daily during the session and they set forth the text of communications between houses, committee reports, transmittal correspondence to and from the executive, plus votes on motions, amendments, and bills. The journals are not verbatim and do not contain a transcript of debate in the Committee of the Whole. Also, the journals do not contain the text of proposed amendments which are not adopted. These proposed amendments can be obtained from the Montana Historical Society.

The index to the journals is two part. Included is a complete subject index, plus a list of each bill followed by page numbers from the journals indicating where that bill was considered. Bold face type indicates pages where votes occur.

The daily journals can be purchased from the Distribution Center in the Capitol basement. The bound, seven-volume set, (three Senate, three House and one index), is available from the Legislative Council. MONTANA CODE ANNOTATED

The Montana Code Annotated is published in two parts: the Code and the Annotations to the Code.

The Montana Code is the systematic arrangement of all permanent state statutes (laws) currently in force in Montana. An entry includes the statute text and history, plus the compiler's comments and cross-references to related code provisions. A new edition is printed every odd-numbered year with new laws added, repealed laws deleted, and amended statutes updated. The Code Commissioner's staff is responsible for this codification process.

The Code is available for purchase in the Legislative Council main office. In 1981, the 10-volume, soft-cover set sold for $150.00. Individual volumes sold for $15.00 each. The code is available on microfiche for $6.00. Certain titles are printed in pamphlet form when the demand is great. These pamphlets range in price from $3.00 to $6.00 each.

The second part of the MCA, the Annotations, incorporate background materials relating to the statutes, including pertinent official comments, compiler's comments, references to administrative rules, case notes, digests of Attorney General's opinions, citations to law review articles, bar publications, and legal encyclopedias. An explanation of each of these items is found in the preface of Volume I of the Annotations.

The Annotations are published in a loose-leaf format and in 1982, sold for $245.00 for individuals, $205.00 for governmental agencies.

INTERIM STUDY FINAL REPORTS

The Legislative Council prepares and publishes all final reports of the joint subcommittees of legislative standing committees. The reports contain a copy of the joint resolution requesting the study, committee membership and staff, actions, findings and recommendations, plus any proposed legislation to be brought before the legislature.

Final reports are free and available from the Legislative Council. A bibliography of research publications is found in the Introduction to the Montana Legislative Council.

FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS

The Committee on Corrections Policy and Facility Needs found that:

- 1) There appears to be no immediate need for additional residential facilities at Montana State Prison; should the prison population increase so as to require additional facilities, careful consideration should be given to residential alternatives outside the prison;
- 2) Work rehabilitation and job training should be considered as worthwhile alternatives; and
- 3) The Committee views with alarm the increased incarceration rates recently experienced in Montana.

SUMMARY OF RECOMMENDATIONS - CORRECTIONS

The Committee on Corrections Policy and Facility Needs recommends to the 47th Legislature:

- 1) That the Correctional Needs Report from the Department of Institutions be commended to the 47th Legislature for their consideration; and
- 2) That this state make a major commitment to adult probation and parole.

SUMMARY OF RECOMMENDATIONS - SENTENCING

The Committee on Corrections Policy and Facility Needs recommends to the 47th Legislature:

- 1) That plea bargaining be an open process with a written record;
- 2) That the state be allowed to request an appellate review of a legal or a deferred sentence;
- 3) That the maximum period for deferred imposition of a sentence for a felony be increased from 3 to 5 years;
- 4) That fines and assessment of costs in felony criminal cases be allowed and community service as a condition of deferred or suspended sentence be allowed;
- 5) That additional sentences for crimes committed with a dangerous weapon run consecutively with the sentence provided for that offense;
- 6) That there be increased punishment of persons who have been convicted of three separate felonies;

INTERIM COMMITTEES

FISH AND GAME

FINAL RECOMMENDATIONS DECIDED

The Joint Subcommittee on Fish and Game held its final meeting of the interim on October 14. The meeting was primarily a work session to develop the Committee's final report.

A contingent from Cooke City testified that the "bear problems" being reported in their city were not very significant. They requested more cooperation from the Department of Fish, Wildlife, and Parks.

The Committee made several formal "findings" regarding the Department's staffing, management and land acquisition policies. A recommendation to increase the number of wardens to 95 was adopted. Bill drafts to be included in the report pertain to amending the statutes regulating outfitters, and to amending the code sections restricting Fish, Wildlife, and Parks employees from testifying before the Legislature.

The final report should be available in December.

BUSINESS

RECOMMENDATIONS SET IN OCTOBER MEETING

October was an active month for the Joint Subcommittee on Business. It co-sponsored the Forum on Environmental Regulation and the Economy with the EQC on October 4 and 5. The Forum was very productive and quite a success.

The Committee also held its final meeting on October 6 in Helena. Contents and format for the final report were the main order of business. The Committee adopted about a
